Old Mutual Trophy Wine Show 2020 Gold Medalists Announced

The results of the 2020 Old Mutual Trophy Wine Show were announced by way of a unique online presentation, timed to coincide with their publication (on the website and on the Old Mutual Trophy Wine Show App).

The virtual awards function detailed the key results from the 19th edition of the Cape wine industry's toughest – and most highly regarded – competition. Of the 747 wines judged from 161 producers, 39 gold medals were awarded.

Since the competition's inception in 2002, the Old Mutual Trophy Wine Show has provided a showcase of the ever-changing landscape of Cape wine. In the almost two decades of its existence, the competition has welcomed on its winner's podium almost all of the country's leading producers, from boutique-size cellars to major wholesalers.

Of the 39 trophies and gold medals presented across the show's various classes only 9 were awarded to producers who had never before received one of these accolades.

Overall the show highlighted the much improved vineyard conditions since the end of the devastating drought – and this partly explains the higher medal count relative to total entries across all categories.

Worcester Wine and Olive Route is extremely proud to announce that the following producers had received the following gold medals:
